

Special Issue: Ion Channel Pharmacology

- 1 Deconstruction – reconstruction: Analysis of the crucial structural elements of GluN2B-selective, negative allosteric NMDA receptor modulators with 3-benzazepine scaffold
Ritter N. (Münster), Korff M. (Münster), Markus A. (Münster), Schepmann D. (Münster), Seebohm G. (Münster), Schreiber J. (Münster), Wünsch B. (Münster)
- 14 Computational Ion Channel Research: from the Application of Artificial Intelligence to Molecular Dynamics Simulations
Menke J. (Münster), Maskri S. (Münster), Koch O. (Münster)
- 46 KCNQ5 Potassium Channel Activation Underlies Vasodilation by Tea
Redford K. (Irvine), Rognant S. (Copenhagen), Jepps T. (Copenhagen), Abbott G. (Irvine)
- 65 Pathophysiological Role of K_{sp} Channels in Human Diseases
Lee L. (Münster), Müntefering T. (Düsseldorf), Budde T. (Münster), Meuth S. (Düsseldorf), Ruck T. (Düsseldorf)
- 87 Molecular Pharmacology of K_{sp} Potassium Channels
Decher N. (Marburg), Rinné S. (Marburg), Bedoya M. (Talca), Gonzalez W. (Talca), Kiper A. (Marburg)
- 108 Beyond Hot and Spicy: TRPV Channels and their Pharmacological Modulation
Seebohm G. (Münster), Schreiber J. (Münster)
- 131 Targeting $K_{3.1}$ Channels in Cancer
Todesca L. (Münster), Maskri S. (Münster), Brömmel K. (Münster), Thale I. (Münster), Wünsch B. (Münster), Koch O. (Münster), Schwab A. (Münster)
- 145 Impact of Diverse Ion Channels on Regulatory T Cell Functions
Vinnenberg L. (Münster), Bock S. (Münster), Hundehege P. (Münster), Ruck T. (Düsseldorf), Meuth S. (Düsseldorf)
- 157 The Amyloid Precursor Protein C99 Fragment Modulates Voltage-Gated Potassium Channels
Manville R. (Irvine), Abbott G. (Irvine)
